Horticulture sector is one of the lucrative sectors of the economy and it is highly remunerative than the agriculture sector. Realizing the importance of horticulture, Government of Karnataka has established UHS Bagalkot during 2008. University is immensely working on improvement of different horticulture streams byways o research and development. Graduates from this university has plenty of opportunities to emerge as new entrepreneurs in their streams. NAHEP-IDP project will strengthen entrepreneurial attitude among the students by providing technical and moral support. It also helps to bring alumni entrepreneurs close to university who can ignite the young minds. In tis regard we are very much thankful to ICAR and world bank for granting the project.
